

Wood Countertop Trend Spreads through America

The trend of wood countertops is rapidly spreading throughout the home improvement community and its aficionados. Kitchen decorators are opting to go au naturale with wood countertops to add warmth where other surface applications cannot. Like granite, wood countertops are naturally occurring, giving them unique characteristics and sophisticated textures inch by inch.

Surface Products is a proud supplier of Craft-Art Wood Countertops. We hand-craft each countertop according to our clients custom order, and we offer wood applications in the areas of kitchen countertops, island tops, desk tops and almost any other surface you can imagine!
